The Promise of the Messiah in Genesis

The Protoevangelium: The First Gospel

The story of Jesus begins even before the written Scriptures, in the earliest chapters of Genesis. After Adam and Eve's fall into sin, God pronounces judgment but also offers hope—what is known as the Protoevangelium, or the first gospel. In Genesis 3:15, God declares to Satan that “He will crush your head, and you will strike His heel.” This verse is widely interpreted by biblical scholars as a prophetic reference to Jesus Christ, who would ultimately defeat Satan through His death and resurrection.

The Lineage of the Promised Savior

Genesis traces the lineage of key figures through whom the promise of a Messiah would be fulfilled. Notable among these are:

1. Abraham: God promises that through his descendants, all nations will be blessed (Genesis 12:3; 22:18).
2. Isaac and Jacob: The covenant continues through their descendants, emphasizing God's ongoing plan.
3. Joseph's Story: Although not directly related to Jesus, Joseph's life foreshadows themes of suffering and salvation.

The genealogy outlined in Genesis sets the foundation for the expectation of a coming Savior rooted in God's covenant with His people.
