Introduction to India's Foreign Policy

India's foreign policy is shaped by its historical context, strategic needs, economic ambitions, and democratic values. As the world's largest democracy and a rising power, India seeks to establish a prominent role on the global stage while safeguarding its national interests. Sumit Ganguly highlights that India's foreign policy has historically been characterized by principles such as non-alignment, strategic autonomy, and a focus on regional stability. Over time, these principles have evolved, especially post-Cold War, reflecting the country's changing priorities.

Core Principles of India's Foreign Policy

Ganguly identifies several foundational principles that continue to underpin India's diplomatic approach:

Non-Alignment and Strategic Autonomy

India traditionally adopted a policy of non-alignment during the Cold War era, avoiding formal military alliances and maintaining independence in decision-making. While this approach has evolved, strategic autonomy remains a key objective, allowing India to forge partnerships based on national interest rather than bloc politics.

Peaceful Coexistence and Regional Stability

India emphasizes peaceful relations with its neighbors and seeks regional stability through diplomatic engagement, economic cooperation, and conflict resolution.

Promotion of Democratic Values

As a democracy, India advocates for democratic governance and human rights, often promoting these ideals in its foreign relations.

Strategic Priorities in India's Foreign Policy

Sumit Ganguly points out that India's foreign policy is guided by several strategic priorities, reflecting both regional and global considerations.

1. Ensuring National Security

India navigates a complex relationship with China, balancing cooperation in trade and infrastructure with strategic competition, especially in the Indo-Pacific region.

3. The United States and the West

India cultivates a strategic partnership with the US, emphasizing defense cooperation, counter-terrorism, and economic ties, while maintaining independence in foreign policy choices.

Economic reforms in the 1990s marked a shift towards greater global engagement, with India opening up to foreign investment and participating more actively in international institutions.

21st Century and Strategic Assertiveness

Under recent administrations, India has adopted a more assertive foreign policy, seeking to establish itself as a regional power and global player, exemplified by initiatives like Act East, Indo-Pacific strategy, and military modernization.
